

Michael Linde, MS

Experience

2002–Present Linde Medical Writing

Independent Medical Writer

- Authored manuscripts, slide sets, brochures, meeting summaries and other material on HIV/AIDS, diabetes, cancer, and other medical topics for clinicians, researchers, and patients.
- Created medical content and needs assessments for pharmaceutical companies, new media health sites, and non-profit organizations.

2003–2007 Johns Hopkins University Baltimore, MD

Doctoral Candidate; Graduate Program in Immunology

- Studied HIV phenotype and immune effects related to host protein incorporation in the HIV envelope.
- Conducted and analyzed data from western blots, flow cytometry, virus purification, tissue culture and other basic science assays.

1999–2001 Medisolutions, Inc. New York, NY

Medical Writer

- Authored presentations, manuscripts, monographs, conference posters, and other materials on HIV for clinicians, researchers, and patients.
- Created infectious disease-related content for major pharmaceutical companies.

1998–1999 Information Inc. Bethesda, MD

Medical Abstractor

- Abstracted articles from medical journals and major news publications for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's daily "HIV/TB/STD Prevention News Update" electronic newsletter.

Education

2003–2007 Johns Hopkins University Baltimore, MD

Doctoral Candidate; Graduate Program in Immunology

2001–2003 University of Southern California Los Angeles, CA

Masters of Science; Biochemistry and Molecular Biology; 2003

Thesis: "Electrostatic Interactions of Positively Charged Amino Acids in the Complex of U1A and U1hplI"

1992–1996 Emory University Atlanta, GA

Bachelor of Arts; Biology/English; 1996

Affiliations

American Medical Writers Association; Oct 2007-Present

National Association of Science Writers, Inc.; June 2006-Present

International Association of Physicians in AIDS Care; May 1999-May 2001

Curriculum Vitae and references available upon request